

SESSION C-159 - Imaging and EP Physicians:
Sisters & Brothers Joined at the Hips

○ Add To Itinerary

 May 11, 2017, 10:30 - 12:00 PM

 Room 181

DESCRIPTION

The session will illustrate capabilities of comprehensive non-invasive imaging for therapy guiding in arrhythmias.

Corporate Sponsors

A Joint Session presented by the American Society Echocardiography and Society for Cardiovascular Magnetic Resonance

Learning Objective 1

To interpret the role of non-invasive imaging in guiding procedure

Learning Objective 2

To identify utilize the CMR to guide decision-making in CRT-device therapy

Learning Objective 3

To interpret the challenges of current guidelines

Credit Hours

1.5

Difficulty Level

Intermediate

Program Highlights

Joint Sessions

7 Presentations

| | | |
|------------------|---|------------------------------------|
| 10:30 - 12:00 PM | - Chair Nassir F. Marrouche, MD, FHRS. University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT | ○ Add To Itinerary |
| 10:30 - 12:00 PM | - Chair Victor Ferrari. University of PA Medical Center, Philadelphia, PA | ○ Add To Itinerary |
| 10:30 - 10:50 AM | - CMR Imaging: Enhancing AF Ablation Outcomes Nazem Akoum, M.D.. University of Washington, Seattle, WA | ○ Add To Itinerary |
| 10:50 - 11:10 AM | - The Role of TEE in the Selection, Guidance, and Follow-Up of LAA Closure Muhammed Saric, MD, PhD. New York University, New York, NY | ○ Add To Itinerary |
| 11:10 - 11:30 AM | - CMR Helps CRT Decision - Making (Dyssynchrony, Viability, and Unusual Cardiomyopathies) Jeanette Schulz- Menger, MD. University Medicine Berlin, Berlin Bush, Germany | ○ Add To Itinerary |

11:30 - 11:50 AM

- Why is Cardiac Imaging not in the Guidelines for Patient Selection for CRT & Other EP Procedures?
Richard A. Grimm,
DO. Cleveland Clinic,
Cleveland, OH

Add To Itinerary

11:50 - 12:00 PM

- Panel Discussion

Add To Itinerary