Question and Answer

If you are in a Meet the Experts session (check "Session Type," above), please note that where there is a case presentation the case should be selected in consultation with the session chair and panelists, unless already specified. Each case presentation is 5 minutes, followed by a 10-minute panel discussion ("canned" commentary with slides is discouraged) and 15 minutes of audience question-and-answer participation. We encourage the case presenter to have slides. In instances where more than one case is being presented, please refer to the times outlined in that session.

AGAIN THIS YEAR: ACC will be enforcing the requirement that speakers must upload their presentation in advance and check in at the Speaker Ready Room onsite at least 3 hours prior to presentation. Speakers who miss this deadline will not be able to present. You must check in at the front desk with a representative of the Speaker Ready Room before sitting down at a station. Additional AV and speaker information will be available in February.

It is important that timed talks adhere to the schedule. Session chairs are responsible for maintaining the schedule of talks as well as question-and-answer sessions. Please be sure to stay within your allotted time to ensure that any Q&A/Panel Discussion segments may occur. NEW THIS YEAR: Your PPT presentation will automatically be shut off and the screen will go black after your allotted time has expired.

The American College of Cardiology Foundation (ACCF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) as well as the American Nursing Credentialing Center (ANCC). As such, we must abide by all ACCME guidelines and ANCC Content Integrity Standards for our practice of continuing medical and nursing education, which includes implementing a process whereby everyone who is in a position to control the content of an educational activity must disclose all relevant financial relationship with any commercial interest. Should it be determined that a conflict of interest exists as a result of a financial relationship you (or spouse) may have, this will need to be resolved prior to the activity. Accordingly, if you have not already done so since March 2012 please submit your disclosure information immediately via ACC's online disclosure portal.

Again this year you will only need to complete disclosure/conflict of interest information one time. Once you have agreed to participate please submit your disclosure information via ACC's online disclosure portal immediately: <https://services.acc.org/Disclosure>. If your disclosure information is not on file with the American College of Cardiology by Jan. 5, 2013, you will not be able to give your presentation (s) per ACCME regulations/ANCC Content Integrity Standards.

To access, please go to <https://services.acc.org/Disclosure>. Use your ACC username and password to login. If you do not have an ACC username and password, please contact the ACC Resource Center at 1.800.253.4636 or from outside the US, 202.375.6000 ext. 5603, and inform them that you have been invited to participate as a Faculty member for a CME/CE-credited activity. You can also get your username and password electronically by clicking on "Forgot your username or password?"

Your disclosure information will be reviewed by the oversight committee or chair. Staff will follow-up with you to advise if any conflicts of interest (COI) were identified, and the recommended resolution mechanisms. In accordance with ACCME and ANCC stipulations, in the unlikely event there is a refusal to disclose or inability to resolve potential COI, we will be unable to continue with your portion of the activity.

Your acceptance is pending until you complete the disclosure. Participants who have not disclosed may register for the meeting. However, registration status will be considered incomplete and meeting badge and materials will be withheld until the disclosure process has been finalized.

The registration fee is waived for structured session faculty; however, the College does not pay an honorarium, nor reimburse for hotel, travel or per diem expenses. Abstract presenters who are not also structured session faculty must register and pay the registration fee in your respective category. Accepting this invitation does not automatically register you for the meeting. Once you have accepted this invitation, allow 24 hours before registering through J. Spargo and Associates, the official registration and housing bureau for the 62nd Annual Scientific Session, in order to obtain a meeting badge. Please visit <http://www.accscientificsession.org/registration/Pages/default.aspx>.

Please note some changes in the Faculty Lounge: Beverages will be available, as in previous years. Breakfast will not be served, but Faculty will be able to grab a light lunch. As always, we invite faculty to visit the Faculty Lounge to enjoy quiet time or meet up with colleagues and make use of one of our multiple computers.

Your interest in the College is greatly appreciated. Thank you for your prompt response and we look forward to seeing you March 9-11, 2013, in San Francisco!
